Permission is granted the fifth company, Westery, and all other organizations of the Rhode Island National guard to parade in the city, wearing full dress uniforms, on Sunday, May 29, and Monday, May 30, for the purpose of taking part in the general exercises incident to the observance of those days, both of which will be observed in some cities of the state.
The fifth company will parade with Burling and Hancock posts, departments of Rhode Island and Connecticut, respectively, and in larger numbers than a year ago.

Memorial day will be observed in Westery in the customary way, with a parade in the afternoon, visitation to the graves of the fallen and flowers including the placing of flowers on the graves of the heroic dead, with special ceremonies at River Bend. In the evening there will be exercises appropriate to the occasion in Bilven opera house, when addresses will be made by D. Burdard, speaker of the Rhode Island house of representatives.

The adjutant general has issued orders announcing the regulations for rifle practice at the state range for the coming season. In the main the regulations are similar to those of former years, but a change is made in the qualification. To those who shoot at the 300 yard distance in all classes.
A change is made in the qualification necessary for an expert, as all who qualified as an expert last year need to shoot only at the 300 and 1,000 yard ranges this year.

The allowance of state ammunition during the season for each officer and soldier is fixed at 100 rounds, but the prize for practice will be 50 rounds, to permit obtaining the marksmen's qualification. And in the main, the regu-

At the annual meeting of the West-ery fire district the board of engineers was authorized to purchase one thousand feet of new hose, but that hose has delayed making the purchase for perhaps good and sufficient reason, and now the fire district will have to pay the freight if purchase is made. Within the past fortnight the price upon all orders of the hose has advanced about twenty cents a foot, but this increase of say $200 will not occasion much further delay in the purchase of hose which will be absolutely necessary if the annexed district is to have adequate fire protection.

At the special meeting of the fire district last Wednesday evening a committee of taxpayers of the district was appointed to consider all matters that tended to the betterment of the fire department, but that does not include the purchase of hose, as that particular matter was left with the board of engineers, who are not taxpayers, by the action of the annual meeting.

There is also need for larger ladders for the fire district, but this is not feasible unless there be change in the construction of the fire hose, so that it will permit a safe turn in leaving the house to respond to fire alarms. The committee will take all matters pertaining to the department under consideration and will make report and suggestions to the adjutant fire district meeting to be held May 11.

The home of Herbert W. Thompson in Pleasant street was invaded Saturday evening by Oliver Bradford, Sergeant Brown and Melvin Mitchell.
They were armed with search warrant and were after intoxicating liquors.
The doors back and front of the house were locked, but were opened when the chief made demand. Half a dozen men emerged and the searching party entered.

They found a number of glasses on a table which had contained ale, also a keg of ale freshly tapped and two full bottles of ale. The liquor was seized and taken to the police station.
The owner will be given opportunity to make claim for the beer in the Third district court.

WOOD ALCOHOL

Sold in Bridgeport as a Beverage, It is Claimed.

Is Bridgeport to have an experience similar to that of Westery, R. I., in the matter of deaths through wood alcohol sold as liquor to be drunk? asks the Standard. A prominent physician of this city has informed a Standard reporter that he is very often called upon to attend to cases of injury from drinking and upon examination finds that the men show the symptoms of wood alcohol poisoning. This is mostly in the Slav districts of the city.

It is the opinion of the physician that wood alcohol is being used there to some extent and that it is only a question of time when the saloon keepers will become more bold and dispense more freely the poisonous liquid.

The physician stated that in so far as the saloon district of the city is concerned he did not think that any use was made of wood alcohol, the use of this chemical compound being more limited to the district where the foreigners live, and spend their leisure time. It was in those small "dumpy" saloons that the poison was handed over the bar to the innocent drinkers. It would be surprising to the physician to have a death occur any day because of the use of wood alcohol in "boozes."

Protecting the Drunkard.

An ordinance just passed by the city council in Morrison, Ill., provides that when anybody in a saloon is overcome by alcoholic lethargy or coma the proprietor of the place, instead of following the ancient custom of his kind and ejecting the victim of his wares or leaving him over to the convenience of fate, must take tender care of him until complete sobriety returns and furnish him with a comfortable bed in which to sleep off his artificial weariness. Failure to do this is declared sufficient cause for forfeiture of license.

There, now, is a fine idea—or the beginning of one. The duty imposed on the Morrison saloon keeper is in evident recognition of his responsibility for the customer's helplessness, but he is more responsible for that than for many other and more serious results of indulgence in intoxicants—for causing up to and to the death of losses of jobs and money, for the poverty of the drunkard's home and the unhappiness of his wife and children.

At any rate, that is the way the people behind this ordinance must see things, and it is a wonder that they did not show the courage of their beliefs and go boldly forward along the new line they have so boldly opened.
